I. Substitute Services Information

1. General Information

Substitute Services Office

The Substitute Services Office proudly welcomes you as an employee of the Independence School District! The services you provide are crucial to the education and well-being of our students, and we want you to have enjoyable and successful experiences in your role as a substitute.

Dr. Pam Boatright and Mr. Dean Katt, Directors of Human Resources, are the administrators for Substitute Services, and Tiffany Purinton is the Substitute Services Manager.

Your assignments will be made through Aesop, but you may occasionally have a question for our staff. Please feel free to e-mail angella_gulotta@idschools.org or call 521-5555. If the staff should be on the phone or away from the desk, you will be connected to voice mail to leave a brief message.

Accepting Assignments

The AESOP System is the only way to authorize being placed on payroll. If you accept an assignment from a friend or regular employee please make sure you accept the job through AESOP.

To help us keep in contact with you, please notify the Substitute Services Office of any change of address, telephone number, or availability for work.

Job Descriptions

Substitute Teachers are responsible for the same legal and procedural responsibilities as regular classroom teachers. Substitute nurses work within the guidelines of their professional certification, as well as the legal and procedural responsibilities of the school district. Substitute secretaries fulfill the responsibilities of regular district secretaries. Job descriptions for substitute teachers, school nurses, and school secretaries are included in the "Employment" section of this handbook.

Professional Presentation of Self

Much of your success as a substitute depends upon appearing prepared and professional. Your appearance will make the first impression, and professional dress, speech, and manners will help you gain the respect of administrators, students, and staff. While clothing need not be expensive, you should arrive at school looking neat, clean, and well groomed. Jeans, t-shirts, and tennis shoes are not appropriate dress for substitutes.

Substitute Hours

Substitute teachers shall be on duty not less than 20 minutes before classes begin and may leave the building 20 minutes after classes are dismissed at the close of the school day. Building schedules are listed in the "General District Information" section of this handbook.

Substitute secretaries and nurses will be informed of their working hours when they receive assignments.

The School Day

Wear Your ID Badge

The first step in identifying yourself to staff and students as a district employee is to wear your photo ID badge at all times. This is also important for the security of our students. If you forget your badge, please inform the office so they can provide you with an alternate form of identification. You will be issued a new photo ID badge each year you work in the district.

Upon Arrival at School

It is suggested that you familiarize yourself with the district before taking your first assignment. A drive through the area will save a lot of early morning confusion on the day you go to work.

Upon arrival at the school, always check in with the principal's secretary, even if you have been retained by the building or the Substitute Services Office. The principal and secretary must be notified that you are in the building.

You will be provided a Substitute Notebook whether by the secretary or in the classroom that includes the daily schedule, extra duties, a class list and/or a seating chart, lesson plans, classroom rules and discipline procedures, health concerns for students, emergency procedures, and a building map. Read it very carefully and keep it for handy reference throughout the day. If you have any questions, the principal and school secretary will be pleased to help. Their names are listed in the "General District Information" section of this handbook. You will find that your teaching duties in the classroom will go more smoothly if you review these materials before the class arrives. If there is no seating chart, you should make one. This enables you to call students by name and helps maintain classroom control.

Substitutes who follow lesson plans and directions left by the permanent staff are those who will be requested for return assignments.

When the class arrives, introduce yourself, write your name on the board and Smile Your day with the students has begun!

As a professional replacing a permanent staff member who is absent, you should fulfill your obligation to make the school day of value to the students. Once again, the substitutes who fulfill this obligation are requested for return assignments.

Rapport with students should be established quickly. A pleasant, sincere, but firm approach and adherence to the established routine of the classroom will help ensure a relationship of mutual respect with the pupils. Students should be under your supervision at all times. The Independence School District expects all students to do the work assigned and to observe all the requirements of good conduct. You must accept no other standard.

You are responsible for upholding school rules and regulations and maintaining daily records of attendance, lunch payments, etc. If you are in doubt about the method of keeping these records, information may be secured from the school secretary, the nearest classroom teacher, or the principal.

In most cases, there will be a lesson plan you will be expected to follow; however, it is not always possible for adequate plans to have been made by the regular teacher ahead of time. In these instances, please contact the principal or office personnel for alternate plans.

The End of the Day

Leave a note in regards to lesson plans, students, or comments on subjects. If any money is being raised or obtained for whatever reason please send students to the office to have it collected.

Letting Effective Instruction Work for You

Students will be more likely to perform as you expect if you incorporate motivation and reinforcement principles into your daily routine. This involves building interest, success, feedback, and accountability into your lessons. Positive reinforcement involves encouraging students to maintain appropriate behavior. When students are on task as expected, make sure they are positively reinforced so that this behavior will continue. Appropriate behavior, as well as inappropriate behavior that is positively reinforced, will continue or increase in frequency.

The Substitute Teacher Institute provides the following principles of human behavior in their Substitute Teacher Handbook:

- Behavior is largely a product of its immediate environment. If students misbehave, act out, are easily distracted, and so on, it is very likely that this is in response to something in the immediate classroom environment. Your actions as a teacher determine this environment. Control your actions and you control the environment.
- Behavior is strengthened or weakened by its consequences. The persistent behavior of students who are disruptive or non-attentive can invariably be explained by the classroom consequences of this behavior.
- Behavior ultimately responds better to positive than to negative consequences. By genuinely reinforcing appropriate behavior through positive consequences, many undesirable behaviors will become extinct and appropriate behavior among all students will increase.

- Whether a behavior has been punished or reinforced is known only by the course of that behavior in the future. The only way you can tell if a response to a behavior is punishing or reinforcing is to watch what happens to the behavior after the response. What is a punishment to one student may reinforce and perpetuate a behavior in another.

A complete discussion of classroom management can be found in chapter 1 of the Substitute Teacher Handbook. This book is available for check out in the Substitute Services Office.

Substitutes for Early Education

From time to time you may be offered a position as a teacher or teacher assistant in a child care setting in one of the district elementary schools. Please be aware that you need to be able to lift, carry, and/or hold children up to 50 pounds if you accept one of these assignments. Substitutes are paid according to the Early Childhood pay scale.

Substitutes should not open or close an early childhood site by themselves. Please contact Substitute Services if you find yourself in this situation.

Releasing a Student

If a person not connected with the school seeks information about a child or permission to take the child from the room, refer that person directly to the principal. The principal will determine whether or not the child should be excused and will notify you of the decision.

Under NO circumstances should a child be released without permission of the principal.

Discipline

If you follow the three F's - Friendly, Fair, and Firm, there should be little problem with discipline. If the students are engaged in meaningful learning activities, discipline problems usually will not develop. If you know the subject being taught and present it in an appropriate manner, students will be more likely to be attentive.

Naturally, exceptions and problems occasionally arise. If a discipline problem occurs that you are unable to handle, consult the principal or the person in charge.

At No Time Are You to Administer Corporal Punishment

Discipline problems generally occur for one of three reasons. From the student's viewpoint, these reasons include:

- The student can't do it- so why even try?
- The student can already do it- so why bother?
- It won't make any difference if I do it or not- so why bother?

To help students stay on task, make sure that what you are asking of them is not too easy. If they are bored you are more likely to get misbehavior. At the other end of the spectrum, if students feel there is no way they can do what is being asked, you are also likely to get misbehavior. Many students would prefer to be known as troublemakers than to be seen as "dumb" by their peers.

Make sure that students are held accountable for what they are being asked to do.

Several strategies can be used and may include:

- Direct your questions and activities to all students, not just those who raise their hands. We know that when students are actively involved in the learning process, they are less likely to engage in inappropriate behavior.
- Move around the classroom and position yourself near students who could benefit from your presence and assistance.
- Relate the content you are teaching to the students' personal lives.
- Provide feedback that tells the students what it is they are doing right, what needs to be improved, and how to improve. This sends the message that you expect them to get it right and that you will help them to be right.
- By following the regular teacher's lesson plans, the students will feel that the day fits into the general structure of the class and is not a "day off" because their regular teacher is not there. This provides more continuity in the instructional program and is more likely to encourage students to continue behaving in the manner expected when their regular teacher is there.

Use of Planning Time at Secondary Schools

- A planning time (conference hour) is usually a part of the daily schedule at the secondary schools.
- Substitutes should be available to the school during their planning time. They should not go home or leave the building to take care of personal business during this hour.
- Substitute teachers hired for a one-day assignment at the high schools (who do not have a specific task to complete for the teacher, such as grading papers) are allowed a break during the conference hour. On "block days" they may be asked to supervise students, assist in learning labs, or help in other ways the building administrator deems necessary. A substitute teacher who will be in the same assignment for two or more days will probably need their conference hour to prepare for the next day's lessons.

Payroll Information

Teachers who substitute intermittently on a day-to-day basis shall be paid at the rate of $115.00 per day, or $57.50 per half day.

A substitute will receive $90.00 a day if substituting in a para educator position, or $45.00 per half day.

The work day is the same as that of the classroom teacher. Planning periods that occur at the beginning or end of the day do not permit the substitute's late arrival or early departure. (If you choose to leave early when the planning period is at the end of the day, you will not be paid for those hours.)

Substitutes are automatically enrolled for direct deposit of funds into their personal bank accounts. Please contact the Substitute Services Office should you need to update your information.

For information regarding payroll periods and pay dates, please refer to the Pay Period Dates page in the Employment section of this handbook or the Payroll button on the Substitute page of the district website. All Substitutes will access payroll check information via My Benefits on the district website. For more information please visit: <http://sites.isdschools.org/substitutes/payroll>

Professional Ethics

Confidentiality

All school records and reports should be handled with care. Many records are of a confidential nature. They are maintained in order to provide information on a child's development for the professional staff.

It is essential that, as a guest teacher, you are careful not to divulge any confidential information that has been received from contact with children and other people in the profession.

Responsibilities

Certificated substitutes are responsible for knowing the principles of child development, accepted teaching techniques, the educational program, and the rules and regulations of the Independence School District.

The two latter responsibilities can be fulfilled by familiarizing yourself with the information in this handbook and any other materials that are given to you by the Human Resources Office and the individual schools.

Understanding

As a substitute traveling from school to school, you will observe many situations and modes of operation. Rather than disparage the teachers for whom you substitute, we hope you will keep in mind that teachers do not all work in the same way.

Understanding, not criticizing, will go far to make your teaching assignment more pleasant for you and others around you. Instead of expressing comparisons among classrooms, teachers, and schools, you should make every effort to carry on the program of the regular teacher and to fit in with the existing schedule.

Technology Use

Access to technology will be provided to all district substitutes to enhance the classroom experience.

For technology specific questions substitutes may contact the ISD help desk for support by email: helpdesk@idschools.org or by phone, (816) 521-5321.

Cell Phone Use

Substitute teachers must not make or accept cell phone calls when they are on duty with students. Substitutes may make personal telephone calls on break times when they are not supervising students. Cell phones should be placed on a silent or vibrating tone in the schools so as not to disturb the learning environment.

Evaluation Procedures

Each substitute is required to complete a "Report Form" and leave it with the secretary at the end of each assignment. The regular employee and a building administrator will complete an "Evaluation Form" after each assignment. A copy of this evaluation will be sent to the Substitute Services Office and kept in the substitute's personnel file. Copies of these evaluation forms are included in the "Employment" section of this handbook.

Dr. Pam Boatright and Mr. Dean Katt (Directors of Human Resources) or Tiffany Purinton (Substitute Services Manager) will contact you in the event that an evaluation requires a discussion.

Policy 4720 Suspension or Termination: Non-Certificated Staff may be accessed on the district website.

Substitute Teacher Certificates

State law provides that no teacher shall enter a public school classroom to teach, govern, and discipline, unless the person is certificated as a Missouri teacher. Designating a person as a substitute teacher, and/or paying him out of the incidental fund, does not relieve the legal necessity for the person being properly certificated.

(A sample of the Substitute Teaching Certificate is included on the following page.)

As outlined by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education:

- The district will employ individuals to substitute teach who hold either a current Missouri Teacher Certification or a Missouri Substitute Certificate.
- To obtain a Missouri Substitute Certificate an individual has successfully completed sixty (60) semester hours or more of credit from an academic degree granting institution which is contained within the United States Department of Education's Directory of Post-Secondary Institutions, or approved by the Commissioner of Education and possesses good moral character. Second, the individual must submit fingerprints for processing by the FBI. Third, applicants must complete the online application process (<http://dese.mo.gov>) and mail an original transcript to DESE, Attn: Certification, P.O. Box 480, Jefferson City, MO 65102-0480. Upon successful completion of this process you are required to submit a copy of your Missouri Substitute Certificate to the district's Substitute Services office.
- Persons drawing retirement from the Public School Retirement System of Missouri (PSRS) or the Public Education Employee Retirement System (PEERS) are limited to 550 hours of substitute teaching per fiscal year (July to June).

Emergency Procedures

Substitutes should make themselves aware of the location of evacuation plans should an emergency arise. Evacuation plans are posted near the door in each classroom and other common areas. These plans will include both fire and tornado routes. Some classrooms will have a red duffle bag containing first aid items. These bags should be taken with you in the case of a drill or real evacuation. In case of an emergency, Substitutes should also note the location of the fire alarm activation switch closest to the classroom. Each office has a complete Emergency Preparedness Plan notebook that each Substitute should take time to review.

Emergency Preparedness at a Glance

Where is...

- The classroom "Emergency Preparedness Plan of the Independence School District?"
- The nearest exit?
- The intercom button?

If the fire alarm sounds...

Move students out of the building in an orderly fashion following the fire exit evacuation plan which should be posted near the door. Take the attendance book or list with you so that you can assure that all students are safe.

If a tornado warning is announced...

Move students to the shelter area as shown on the room exit plan in an orderly fashion. This movement could be into the hall, to a lower level, into a restroom, etc. Students should sit down with hands over their heads for protection. Take the attendance book or list with you so that you can assure that all students are safe.

You Are Accountable

As a part-time employee, you are accountable for the job you do!

- Personal appearance and attitude should be professional.
- Be on time.
- Be a good role model for students.
- DO NOT put your feet on the desk.
- DO NOT read the newspaper.
- DO NOT take unscheduled breaks; students must always be supervised.
- DO NOT eat or drink in front of the class.
- DO NOT take your children, pet, or parent with you to work.
- Show videos only if the lesson plans indicate.
- DO NOT leave the building to attend to personal business.

Two Important Policies

It is essential that you understand and follow two policies when you substitute in the Independence School District.

These are:

1. The Board of Education's policy on sexual harassment
2. The State mandated Safe Schools Act

Copies of these are included in the "Policies" section of this handbook. Please read these policies carefully, and address any questions to the Substitute Services Office or the building administrator.
